Medical

a The budget states that consultation will be provided in the fields of urology, gynecology and orthopedic medicine. Is the provision of this type of consultative service in keeping with general government practice? If it is not, are there special reasons why the Agency should so provide in its medical program?

25X1 b

✓ Reference is made to special study on detection of incipient illnesses. Is this effort an application of medical research already conducted outside the Agency or does it refer to basic medical research which might apply to the general population?
